CANENA, Council for Harmonization of Electrotechnical Standards of the Nations of the Americas, along with INTECO, Instituto de Normas Tecnicas de Costa Rica and BUN-CA, Regional Cooperation for Energy Efficiency in Central America, are very pleased to announce that the Conference “Energy Efficiency and Electrical Safety – Priorities for the Americas” will take place March 9 – 11, 2010 in San Jose, Costa Rica, one week later that was previously announced.

CANENA’s Planning Committee has confirmed that our exceptional slate of speakers will be available and with very few exceptions, those who had already registered for the conference are able to adjust to the new schedule. Committed exhibitors for the product exhibition have also confirmed their participation. This is truly a testimony to the exciting program that is scheduled and the contemporary importance of the subjects of energy efficiency and electrical safety.

Both of the originally announced hotels, the Real Intercontinental Costa Rica and the Quality Hotel Real San José are ready to accept new reservations or revise your existing reservation. Updated reservation forms and conference programs are attached and are also available at www.CANENA.org.

Thanks to everyone for sticking with us during this unexpected last minute change. You will certainly be rewarded by an exceptional conference program. Unfortunately, CANENA and its co-hosts cannot assume any responsibility for additional costs incurred by conference registrants as a result of the change in dates.
